MONDAY REPORT

Lucy Kubiszyn, Editor
March 22,1993

SHELTON STATE COMMUNITY COLLEGE
Record Series: Campus Newsletter
File: EG 12-5
Date: 10-17-96

TWO SHELTON FACULTY EMPLOYEES RECEIVE AWARDS

Awards of Merit was presented to two individuals representing Shelton State Community College at the Sixth Annual Women Committed to Excellence Awards Program held at the Sheraton Capstone Inn. Brenda Ryan, English instructor/counselor and Lucy Kubiszyn, public relations director, were recognized. Ms. Ryan was acknowledged as an outstanding educator, and Ms. Kubiszyn, was recognized for her outstanding community contributions. The purpose of the awards program was to honor women whose accomplishments and contributions distinguish them as role models from the West Alabama area. Those attending the luncheon from Shelton State were Dr. Ted Spring, executive vice president; Lyda Black, community relations chair; Joy Jones, humanities department; and Margaret Rice, public relations department.

SHELTON HOSTED CITY AND COUNTY SCHOOLS NUTRITION SHOW

What types of foods will students be eating in school cafeterias in the future? How important is student input into this selection process?

These and other similar questions were answered when commercial food vendors from across the state arrived at the C. A. Fredd campus of Shelton State Community College last Friday. Students from kindergarten to high school were there to sample and evaluate the new food products that may be available to schools in the future.

This Nutrition Food Show was sponsored by the Tuscaloosa city and county schools and was held in the Fredd Cafetorium. Over 125 participants, including the students, cafeteria managers, child nutrition program directors, and purchasing coordinators, were there for the event. The local child nutrition programs are directed by Celeste Sparks, Tuscaloosa County School System, and Janice Smith, Tuscaloosa City School System. Elizabeth Bailey is in charge of Shelton State's food service program.

SHELTON STUDENT NAMED OFFICIAL POET FOR FOCUS CELEBRATION

On Friday April 30th, FOCUS will celebrate 20 years of community service with a luncheon at Indian Hills Country Club. As part of the celebration, Kathryn Clark, a Shelton State creative writing student and a member of the Senior Studies program, will read two poems written especially for the occasion. One of the poems, 'Which Way," will appear on commemorative bookmarks.

SHELTON SPONSORS FASHION SHOW DEPICTING SPRING TRENDS

A competitive fashion show sponsored by the cosmetology department at Shelton State Community College will be held on April 6, at 7 p.m. at center court in University Mall.

Students in the day and evening program at the college will compete against one another in three classes: trends; after five/fantasies; and commercial. Models will be from the community and will be wearing clothes to complete the total look. A first, second, and third place trophy will be awarded in each category. Narrator for the event will be Naomi Raymon. For additional information on the fashion show or for information on the cosmetology department, contact Peggy Sexton, chairman of the cosmetology department for the college, 391-2425.

SHELTON SINGERS TO PRESENT SPRING CONCERT

The Shelton Singers will present their spring concert on Thursday, March 25, at 7:30 p.m. in room 406 of the Skyland campus. Admission fee is $3.00 at the door.

The concert will include nine movements of the Lovesong (Libeslieder) Waltzes of Johannes Brahms. In this work, eighteen different poems about love are set to music in the style of the Viennese waltz. Becki Stallsmith and Syble Coats will play the four-hand piano accompaniment.

In addition to the Brahms, the Shelton Singers will perform madrigals, chansons, spirituals, and show tunes. Several soloists from the choir will be featured, including Susan Burroughs, who has recently performed country music in Nashville and Washington, D. C.

The choir will also perform an a cappella arrangement of the Malotte "Lord's Prayer" by Wes Irvin, president of the Shelton Singers. Glinda Blackshear directs the award-winning Shelton Singers. Proceeds from the concert will go toward funding future trips to choral competitions.

SHELTON STATE FOUNDATION ANNOUNCES PLANS FOR '93

Local attorney Claude Burns recently took over the presidency of the Shelton State Foundation for 1993. Serving as first vice president is Jack Kubiszyn. Second vice president is Chuck Tebo and third vice president is Herman Judah. Paul Ray serves as secretary-treasurer for the Foundation. Lucy Kubiszyn is executive secretary.

The Shelton State Foundation, which was incorporated as a 501 (C) 3 in 1984, is designed to provide support to Shelton State Community College. Projects planned for the year include the Foundation's support of the new continuing education program, the annual Barbecue Bash scheduled for late summer, expansion of the Friends of the College into a scholarship endowment fund for the college, and assistance to the college in its plans to build a new campus. The Foundation launched the college's first fundraising effort in 1985 with a successful $500,000 campaign. In 1988, the Foundation built the Beatrice H. Morrison Industrial Training Center. In 1990, the foundation focused special assistance on technical education and the establishment of scholarship funds for worthy students.